It lies, and breeds the bleating goat alone. Pope.
I cast anchor on the lee-side of the island, which seemed to be uninhabited. *Gulliver's Travels.*UNINJURED, adj. Unhurt; suffering no harm.You may as well spread out the uninjur'd heaps Of misers treasure by an outlaw's den,
And tell me it is safe; as bid me hope Danger will let a helpless maiden pass, Uninjur'd in this wild, surrounding waste. Milton.
Then in full age, and hoary holiness
Retire, great teacher! to thy promis'd bliss:
Untouch'd thy tomb, uninjur'd be thy dust,
As thy own fame among the future just. *Prior.*UNINSCRIPTIONED, adj. Having no inscription.Make sacred Charles's tomb for ever known;
Obscure the place, and uninstruct'd the stone. Pope.

in one, which is done by the consent of the bishop, the patron, and incumbent. And this is properly called an union; but there are two other sorts, as when one church is made subject to the other, and when one man is made prelate of both, and when a conventual is made cathedral. Touching union in the first signification, there was a statute, an. 37 Hen.
VIII. chap. 21. that it should be lawful in two churches, whereof the value of the one is not above six pounds in the king's books, of the first fruits, and not above one mile distant from the other. Union in this signification is permanent, and that is for the life of the incumbent; or real, that is, perpetual, whosoever is incumbent. *Covel.*UNION, n. f. [unio, Lat.]Bringing one at a birth.
Others make good the paucity of their breed with the du-
